(20) [redacted] LIAISON Received a call from Stan Brand, General Counsel, Office of the Clerk, House of Representatives, requesting that we determine if the 1947 transcript of the hearings on the National Security Act of 1947 had ever been recalled by a committee of the House for review. He felt that this information would assist the House in confirming that the transcript has been continuously under House control. I told him I would check and let him know but doubted that this could be determined without an exhaustive review of Agency records spanning 30 years, though it might be possible that someone might have a personal recollection of such a request.
